Overview

We supply coconut milk and coconut cream, pressed from fresh coconut kernel. The two differ mainly in fat content: cream is the richer of the two. Sri Lanka is one of the largest exporters of both, and we supply food manufacturers, food service companies and retail brands.

What we supply

Conventional coconut milk and coconut cream from CDA-registered Sri Lankan processors, in cans, aseptic cartons or bulk aseptic bags, plain or under your label. Our certified organic coconut range is listed separately.

What to tell us

- Product and fat level: milk or cream, and the fat percentage.
- Pack: can size, aseptic cartons, or bulk aseptic bags for processing.
- Additives: whether a stabiliser or emulsifier is acceptable.
- Label and market: private label artwork, label language, and certification such as halal.
- Quantity: cartons or containers, trial or repeat.

Price

The indicative range is based on Sri Lanka's 2025 customs export average for prepared coconut products, which is mostly coconut milk and cream. Fat level, pack and additives move the price, so we confirm a firm FOB Colombo or CIF quote against your spec.

Who you buy from

You buy from Harker Trade Co., the trading line of Harker International (Pvt) Ltd, a registered Sri Lankan company (Reg. No. PV 00338032, Kandy). We buy from Sri Lankan growers and processors, agree the specification with you, and sell it to you under one contract and one invoice, with the export documents in our name.

How ordering works

Send your specification with the quote button on this page. Our Trade Desk confirms the grade, pack and quantity, sends a sample if you want one, and quotes a firm price by email, FOB Colombo or delivered to your port. Payment is by card, Apple Pay or Google Pay at checkout, by SWIFT wire transfer to our bank in Sri Lanka, or by letter of credit for established trade.
