Overview

Sri Lanka exported about US$233 million of babywear in 2025. Factories make soft cotton knit garments for babies and toddlers for retailers in Europe and the United States.

What can be made

- Bodysuits in short and long sleeve
- Sleepsuits and footed rompers
- Two and three-piece sets
- Hats, mittens and bibs

Safety rules for children's clothing

Babywear has its own rules. In the United States, children's products need third-party testing and a Children's Product Certificate under the CPSIA, plus tracking labels, and there are rules on snaps, cords and small parts. The EU and UK have their own requirements. Tell us your market and the factory arranges the testing your importer needs.

How made-to-order works

Sri Lankan garment factories make clothing for many well-known international brands, and they work to the buyer's design. You send a tech pack, sketches or a reference garment; the factory develops a sample; you approve fit, fabric and finish; and the bulk order is made to the approved sample. Your labels, tags and packing are applied in the factory.

Minimum order per style and colour depends on the factory and the fabric. Larger factories work in thousands of pieces; mid-size factories take smaller runs. We match your order size to a factory that fits it, and confirm minimum, sample cost, lead time and price with the quote.

What to tell us for a quote

- Tech pack, sketches or a reference garment
- Fabric, colours and size range
- Quantity per style and colour, and how often you reorder
- Labels, tags and packing
- Destination port, Incoterm and any testing or certification your market needs

Packing and shipping

Orders are packed to your instruction and shipped by sea in a full or shared container, or by air for samples and small lots, quoted FOB Colombo, CFR or CIF to your port. Products from several Sri Lankan suppliers can share one container through our consolidation service.

How to get a price: tell us the quantity, your specification and your destination port. We quote FOB Colombo, CFR or CIF, with lead time and minimum order, and arrange samples before an order.
